FRANKFURTRHEINMAIN

International, competitive and well connected – the metropolitan region FrankfurtRheinMain has a lot to offer. 8.14% of the GDP of Germany are generated on an area that makes up just 4.13% of the total size of the country. This is partially due to the large number of national and international businesses situated in the region and partially due to the increasing number of employees paying social insurance. Between 2018 and 2021 (as of 30th June) their number rose by more than 76,000 to 2,468,448.

Numerous universities with more than a quarter of a million students and several science and research institutions guarantee a steady supply of young professionals and innovations. Thanks to the centrally located international airport, more than 2.3 million tons of freight and airmail reached the metropolitan area in 2021. Due to the Covid-19 pandemic the passenger volume in Frankfurt Airport remained with almost 25 million in 2021 lower than before the pandemic (in comparison 2019: about 71 million passengers).

The region includes almost 12,000 km of roads, seven inland ports and 18 long distance stations.

Tourism is another important economic factor of the region. In 2021 there were almost 15 million overnight stays in FrankfurtRheinMain. Due to the pandemic the Frankfurt Fair – a major centre of attraction – counted almost 270.000 visitors (in comparison 2019: more than 1.8 million visitors).

FrankfurtRheinMain includes the districts of the Chambers of Commerce Aschaffenburg, Darmstadt, Frankfurt am Main, Fulda, Gießen-Friedberg, Hanau-Gelnhausen-Schlüchtern, Limburg, Rheinhessen (Mainz), Offenbach am Main and Wiesbaden.
