

GRAFT BERLIN

We build destinations

GRAFT was established in 1998 in Los Angeles, California, by Lars Krückeberg, Wolfram Putz and Thomas Willemeit. Further offices followed in Berlin, Germany and Shanghai, China.

GRAFT is conceived as a studio for architecture, urban planning, design, music and the pursuit of happiness. Since its establishment, it has been commissioned to design and manage a wide range of projects across multiple disciplines and in numerous locations.

Our design process is evidence-based and human-centred. Our approach stems from scenography and movement rather than tectonics. In this way, we are able to create dynamic, flexible architecture that allows multiple readings.

— GRAFT is an international architectural practice working in the fields of architecture, urban planning, product design, and branding services

— Our work features residential and commercial architecture, health care, mobility, digitization, work, master planning and urban culture projects

— GRAFT has won numerous international awards. Our work has been displayed in exhibitions around the globe
