MIGRANTS AS SKILLED WORKERS

An approach targeting parents having a migration background is designed to convince more adolescents to undergo the German dual professional training. This project which is initiated both by the chamber of industry and commerce and the Osnabrück – Ermsland – county of Bentheim chamber of crafts is sponsored by the European Social Fund.

TRAINING COMPANY AND TRAINING SCHOOL

In general, apprentices work three or four days a week in their training company (hands-on experience) and attend a training school for one or two days (classroom training). I. e., such professional training is provided in two training places: the training company and the training school. Therefore, this training type is also called dual professional training and can take between 2 and 3.5 years.

ALSO ASK YOURSELF THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

- ✓ What for professional training?
- ✓ Does professional training offer career opportunities?
- ✓ Does professional training enable me to set up my own company?
- ✓ Are university studies not better than professional training?
- ✓ Which pay does professional training offer?
- ✓ How much time does professional training take?
- ✓ Which opportunities do I have following professional training?
